

The True Cross - Concerning the Beatification and Sainthood of Mary of Egypt

From the ACTA SANCTORUM begun by the Flemish hagiographer and Jesuit brother, Jean Bolland during the 17th century, we learn of St. Mary of Egypt: Saint Mary of Egypt, one of the Desert Mothers, spent Her last 47 years alone in the trackless desert east of the river Jordan. In order to repent for Her earlier profligate ways, Mary isolated herself from all others until, near the end of Her life. Mary then met with a monk named Zosima from a nearby abbey in Palestine on Lenten retreat into this desert. Zosimas recounting of their meetings near the end of Marys long journey made Christians aware of Her holy progress. His words were later written down for all to know. Mary of Egypt, by ironic circumstance, was brought to worship at the True Cross then kept in Jerusalem. Here her revived faith in God and inspiration from Saint Mary, Holy mother of Christ, gave Mary of Egypt the will to overcome Her own lusts and appetites. She crossed over the river Jordan into the desert where, by her sincere belief and penance, Mary was able to achieve peace and salvation, though Her very survival took all of Her strength and conviction unto death. Saint Mary of Egypts faith, devotion and suffering establish Her as a martyr and patron for all who would repent the antecedents of their shameless lives. Mary of Egypt is revered as a Saint and celebrated during Lent in both the Greek Church which has established Her feast day on April 1st and in Roman Martyrology which honors Her on April 2nd and 3rd. Her relics exist in Rome, Naples, Cremona, and Antwerp. Mary was canonized prior to The Congregation for the Causes of Saints. She has been venerated widely since the end of the first millennium.
