

Chocolate Chip Challah and Other Twists on the Jewish Holiday Table: An Interactive Family Cookbook

Whats for dinner tonight? Artist, author, and cook Lisa Rauchwerger serves up mouthwatering meals and memories in her delightful cookbook. Using the Jewish calendar as a framework, both parent and child can prepare tasty treats all year long. With Aunt Adas Challah (with a twist) on Shabbat, Multicultural Charoset on Pesach, and Sugar Moon Cookies on Rosh Chodesh, families will be sure to find new, meaningful ways to celebrate the Jewish holidays. Each easy-to-follow recipe is designed for children ages 5-11, their families, and their teachers. * Over 40 twists on traditional Jewish recipes. * Activity pages to involve children for each holiday. * Fun, full-color illustrations and information for each Jewish holiday. * An introduction to the Jewish calendar. * Easy-to-use format for adults and children.
