of press. It gives information. Many men and women weigh and measure food as part of a personal plan of recovery from problem eating. Many recovering individuals DO NOT weigh and measure food. There are many strong feelings about it. The editors take no position on weighing and measuring or the sample plans of eating illustrated. The thoughts in this reader are not intended to diagnose or dietetic or other professional information.

If medical, nutritional, or diatetic advice or other expert advice is required, the services of a competent professional person should be sought. The best safeguard against either compulsive eating or compulsive dieting is an active participation in the Twelve Step Programs of Recovery. We remember that no Twelve Step Program
