

Gene Hunter: The Story of Neuropsychologist Nancy Wexler (Womens Adventures in Science (Joseph Henry Press))

Nancy Wexler is a hunter. Her quarry is the gene responsible for a fatal, inherited sickness called Huntingtons disease. Nancys work is a breathtaking race against time not only for others but maybe for herself, as well. Nancy Wexler is the daughter of a Huntingtons patient and is at risk for this disease. Finding this gene is a vital step toward preventing or curing Huntingtons and thus saving lives. Nancys work takes her all over the world, specifically to small villages in Venezuela where the mysterious gene affects more people than anywhere else on the globe. Blood samples generously donated by the villagers hold the clues to discovering the gene. Hunter, detective, scientist: Nancy is all these, plus a friend to people everywhere who are affected by Huntingtons and other diseases of the brain. Gene Hunter is the powerful story of a courageous and dedicated woman whose passion for science is both personally and intellectually satisfying. Author Adele Glimm draws on firsthand accounts from Nancy and her friends, family, and colleagues to tell us how a curious, strongminded woman became an accomplished neuropsychologist.
