

God Has a Plan for Little Boys

Capturing the energy and possibilities of boyhood with light-filled color and energy, beloved painter of children Kathryn Andrews Fincher combines richly detailed pictures and riveting true stories in this motivating book for little boys and those who care about them. Parents, grandparents, and dear friends will sow seeds of strong character in a young boy's life as they read aloud stories of inspiring men of faith who knew from early on that they had been created to do truly great things. The God-given traits of bravery, righteousness, faithfulness, sacrifice, persistence, trust, and humility are highlighted in the lives of King David, Eric Liddell, Martin Luther King, Jr., and others. Paintings of young boys learning, discovering, exploring their world, and talking to God convey the important message that little ones have been created with a special plan and purpose and, with encouragement and guidance, can accomplish amazing things.
