

Dot, Dot, Dot

This story I tell is a story of three... A team, side by side they always will be. They're always together. Together, but free. What keeps them together? Oh, what can that be?

In this whimsical, imaginative adventure, introduce your child to grammar in a fun way, while teaching about the joy of teamwork and togetherness. This story is about making a difference together, working for the greater good and not for individual glory. With our friends the ellipses, discover that even though being one of three can be hard, it's worth it in the end to be part of something bigger-and to gain a friendship that lasts forever.
