by Matt Morris

Ever catch yourself looking at stocks that jump over 50% to 100% each day? I bet you would like to learn a strategy that lets you jump in front of those types of huge short term moves! I have laid out a simple strategy that allows you to catch these types of gains by using the Google stock screener. Its fairly simple, and most anyone could use this strategy...so long as he/she has a trading account and access to the internet. The price you pay for this report is likely about the same price you pay for a trade commission....if you're looking for an edge (that's legal) to your trading, this report is for you.
