

Abbie Rose and the Magic Suitcase: I REALLY Rescued a Goat to Save Chinese New Year

In her latest, globe-trotting, time-travelling adventure, Abbie Rose is sitting on her father's knee and learning all about Chinese New Year. She learns that the Year of the Goat is coming and decides she wants to visit the goat and its friends of the Zodiac and watch the Great Race. Abbie Rose uses her Magic Suitcase which takes her anywhere when she uses the right letters/words on the combination lock to head off on a Chinese New Year adventure.

Abbie Rose and her friend Billy meet and discover all the other animals of the Zodiac, but the goat has vanished. So it's a race against the clock to find and rescue the goat in time to finish the Great Race. Along the way, she learns in a fun and quirky way the importance of understanding and respecting different cultural festivals. This is a great book for budding English and Chinese speakers to learn about an important Chinese festival. About the children's book series: Abbie Rose and the Magic Suitcase series of books are targeted at children aged between 0 and 7 years old. Ideal for parents to read to their kids or for emerging readers to develop a love for reading, Abbie Rose is an engaging, inquisitive, adventurous, irreverent and occasionally cheeky girl who travels to faraway places through the help of a magic suitcase. Before each journey, Abbie Rose listens excitedly to her father recount his latest assignment as a globe-trotting travel writer. She wants to emulate his exploits (the series also discreetly underscores the importance of a close relationship between a present, enthusiastic daddy and his daughter.) So the father encourages her to use his magic suitcase. A unique portal, the magic suitcase has a combination lock filled with letters, rather than numbers, and Abbie Rose must find the right letters to form the names of destinations she wishes to visit. She can go anywhere. She is limited only by her imagination.
