

The Mad Scientists Notebook: Warning! Dangerously Wacky Experiments Inside

Plastic humanoids, dancing spaghetti, and rubber eggs: something wackys going on hereand kids will love it! After all, what could be more fun than peeking into a mad scientists notebook and finding 50 fizzing, popping projects that will light up their own laboratoriesand minds? Young Einsteins (and Dr. Frankensteins) will discover really cool things to do, including building a hovercraft and rocket, boiling ice without melting it, and making their fingers smoke. Notes from the mad scientist himself on richly illustrated and lined pages make the projects even more entertaining! But dont be fooled: these irresistible experiments demonstrate important principles of physics, biology, and chemistry. So kids will safely learn all about scienceeven if theyre too busy making a mess to realize it.
